Glowing accents will be the key in 2020, evolving from the trend for high visibility neon-colour that have emerged last season. Use of functional elements like various fastening to give the designs an active-focused feel.

The leather-like PU has given the products more activewear feel. Consider ways of repurposing the obvious salvaged feet to the range. The design has brought the street-chic back to the trend-fore.

COLOR THEORY

The colour theory defines the complementary scheme which is created by combining colors from opposite sides of the color wheel. In their most basic form, this scheme consist of only two colors, but can easily be expanded using tones, tints, and shades. The range as explained has been developed using two exactly opposite colour using psychedelic.

The bags are sophisticated, polished, and refined. Spend enough time in an urban setting—take one of these favourite bags to the concerts and museums, spending time in crowds—and then you'll be urbane too. urbane assumes that everyone sees the city from the roof deck of their penthouse apartment, drinking champagne and exchanging bon mots with friends. Add a Cole Porter soundtrack and the image is complete. The super stretchy fabric bags with dual coloured zipper adding an element this is otherwise chic products.

N i l e

Depicting the people embark on small boats, and one rows while the other bails out water. Then they are violently tossed about in the raging rapids. At length they reach the narrower channels and, swept along by the whole force of the river, they control the rushing boat by hand and plunge head downward to the great terror of the onlookers ! This range is inspired by the river Nile with its muted slate and undertone of blue, classic and pristine silhouette with linear etched surface .

Doodle

Doodles are simple drawings that can have concrete representational meaning or may just be composed of random and abstract lines. Here in this range we have used small quirky words to describe the everyday fashion digitally printed overlapping the zippers . The hues of powder blue and macaroon cream makes the range fluffier and sporty.
